

Mm, well, we, generally used to do the gym or just chill out on the steps and that. That you, the thing what we were in at Jamil it was a little mansion and it was spot on like accommodation. It had three floors on it and, mm, it had like loads of bullet holes and stuff like that in it like for the previous people who were there. Mm, we had the A and A across from us but in a different compound. Mm, there was like a bed space in it like you could probably could get a six or eight man room, and actually they were massive the rooms. And like I was in like a little four man room at the back so I was glad to be at the back like it's more room for me. But I was there, it was only two people in it at first and it was spot on actually, all the room was just mint. [Laughter] And it was class getting like at, on Christmas and that, it was class getting Christmas cards and that. Like I got a card off my girlfriend, and it just like a little thing makes you happy and you just, you just think, you gan, well at least you're getting things sent from home, you know what I mean. Because, you know I mean, your family need to stay close. It's a rough time over there.
